

ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY

WasteChem Pty Ltd is an environmental services and contracting company specialising in providing business sustainability programs and waste management/treatment to our customers. This includes services in areas such as water, energy, and waste management.

In providing services to our customers we understand that we have a duty of care to maintain the integrity of our environment. In order to achieve this objective WasteChem Pty Ltd will work towards meeting ISO14001 standards.

All activities undertaken WasteChem will consider the environmental impact as part of our risk management system. In doing so we will strive for continual improvement by addressing environmental risks according to their risk rating.

Specifically, we will undertake the following initiatives:

- Comply with all statutory regulatory requirements associated with our operations;
- Assist our customers by providing services that address maintaining the regulatory requirements associated with their operations;
- Ensure that all sites operated by WasteChem meet or exceed the requirements listed WasteChem Environmental Management Plan (EMP).
- Consider environmental management as a standing topic in all our directors and staff meetings;
- Engage the support of our employees by providing a consultative environment for personnel to promote their views;
- Provide training to staff in the area of environmental management;
- Make the policy available to the public, customers and suppliers; and
- Review the policy on a regular basis.
